

Tingkat Stres Pada Level Manajer

Agus Prasetyanta

Abstract

Manager's responsibility is highly related to his/her managerial level. Different level of management faces different problems too. Job responsibility, environment, employees, personality and the organization itself can become the sources of work stress. Therefore, it is important to study a job intensively so that an ideal job qualification can be developed, and in turn, a suitable personnel can be required or promoted.

Key words : work stress, stressor, level's manager